PRACTICE SHEET

1. S1: The crepuscular rays filtering through the clouds at dusk bathed the valley in a soft golden light.
S2: Many species of deer and rabbits are crepuscular, becoming most active during the twilight hours of dawn and dusk.
S3: The painter's latest work captures the crepuscular mood of a village slowly waking under a dim, early morning haze.
(a) 1 (b) 2
(c) 3 (d) None

2. S1: Their inchoate strategy made it impossible to implement anything concrete.
S2: His inchoate laughter was perfectly timed and resonated through the room.
S3: The revolution was still inchoate, lacking structure or widespread support.
(a) 1 (b) 2
(c) 3 (d) None

3. S1: Her rebarbative personality charmed everyone in the room.
S2: The rebarbative layout of the novel made

6. S1: The Bildungsbürgertum influence is evident in the corporate restructuring strategies that prioritize profit optimization over employee well-being.
S2: Bildungsbürgertum broadly refers to any elite group with financial capital, often associated with market-driven innovation and administrative power.
S3: The Bildungsbürgertum ethos, rooted in classical education and moral cultivation, shaped the development of 19th-century German universities and their emphasis on the humanities.
(a) 1 (b) 2
(c) 3 (d) None

7. S1: Heidegger's Dasein is simply "being there" in a physical or geographical sense.
S2: Dasein denotes a being whose existence is defined by its awareness of Being, marked by anxiety, finitude, and authenticity.
S3: Existential therapy incorporates Heidegger's concept of Dasein to explore human presence and choice in the face of